

International Language Centers

This is to certify that

Qdays Educational Holidays

is a recognized

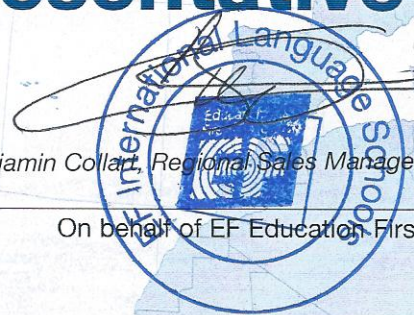

EF Official Representative

December, 2012

Date

Benjamin Collart, Regional Sales Manager

On behalf of EF Education First

EF International Language Centers is a division of EF Education First. Since it was founded in 1965, EF has been at the forefront of modern language learning. As the world's largest private educational organization, EF offers the widest variety of destinations along with flexible course types and special interest courses for every taste and level. The Efecta System™, EF's very own method, is a complete educational package, combining the very best in teaching and technology, to make learning a language faster, more personal and fun.

www.ef.com

The EF International Language Centers in London, Cambridge, Brighton, Oxford, Manchester, Bristol and Birmingham are members of:

The EF International Language Centers in London, Brighton, Bristol, Oxford, Manchester and Birmingham are members of:

EF Dublin is accredited by:

The EF International Language Centers in the USA are accredited by:

The EF International Language Centers in the USA are accredited by:

EF Vancouver and Toronto are accredited by Language Canada.

The EF International Language Centers in Sydney and Brisbane are accredited by:

The EF International Language Center in Brisbane is a member of:

The EF International Language Centers in Santiago, St. Julian's, Cape Town, Paris, Nice and Munich are accredited by:

EF Nice is recognized with the Label Qualité Français Langue Étrangère.

Federation of International Youth Travel Organizations.

All EF Courses are certified by Southern New Hampshire University.

EF Education is an active participant in the Council European de Normalisation.

All EF Courses are recognized by Hult International Business School.

The EF International Language Centers are recognized by the UK Home Office to accept international students under 16+ of the Home Office's Points Based System.

